20TH ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATION

Associate Dean

It makes me proud as Associate Dean of LNU-MSU to announce our crossing a major milestone in the history of our university. This year marks 20 years of its establishment when both Liaoning Normal University and Missouri State University first created the LNU-MSU College of International Business (CIB) in 2000. Since then, LNU-MSU has warmly welcomed students from many nations all over the world including those from Russia, South Korea, Japan, Mongolia, Indonesia, U.S.A. and many African nations. From 2000 until 2020, the campus has grown from a humble beginning of 88 students to nearly 700 undergraduates.

One of the main goals of this educational partnership has been to increase the cultural and educational exchange, and to promote friendship and understanding between the United States and China. For the past 20 years, LNU-MSU College of International Business has been committed to producing qualified business professionals with a global perspective and skills suitable for the twenty-first century global business environment. This has been achieved by developing an understanding of interdependence and cooperation within this unique program of higher learning.

Our success story would be incomplete without expressing deep gratitude to the faculty, staff and administrative teams at both LNU and MSU. Over these years they have devoted their lives to provide students a first-class education. It is their enthusiasm, support and leadership that has allowed the university to reach even greater heights. They have inspired generations of students to reach for excellence.

Congratulations LNU-MSU! I wish you continued success and achievement for many more years to come.

Thanks

Yamei Liu, Dean

How to allocate learning and training time?

EDITOR

We train five days a week. Monday, Wednesday and Friday are morning training. We gather on the court at 6:00am to train basic ball control, passing, shooting and cooperation. Tuesdays and Thursdays are midday training, mainly training physical fitness, long-distance running, sprint running and back-to-back running. In addition, there will be 5000-meter long-distance running training every two weeks. Plus, we have a friendly match every week.

Can you share one of the most impressive moments or events after you joined the football team?

EDITOR

The most impressive thing for me is that on April 11, 2018, first game I played for LNU-MSU football club. Honestly, I was super nervous and excited when I stood on the court. At the beginning of the game, our attacking rhythm was very fierce. When I took the ball right into the penalty area and was about to face the keeper, the opposing defender caught up with me and knocked me down. The referee gave us a penalty, and penalty kick was taken by Nas, one of our teammates. The moment the ball went in, I felt the blood boil all over my body. We yelled, ran back to the midfield to celebrate, then I relaxed. Our cooperation, the pace of attack was great, and we won the game 3-0.

Have you changed since you joined the football team?

EDITOR

Since I joined the football team, I feel that my personality has changed a lot. Previously, I was always afraid to communicate with others, also afraid of mistakes in the field. But now, I gradually begin to walk out of my own small world. No matter whether I have narrow views or strong strength, I will choose to join different groups and organizations. Now I have come to understand that you will make progress in doing things, instead of being completely ready to start again. Otherwise, you will lose a lot of good opportunities. Secondly, the management and allocation of time. I didn't take part in too many activities before, so I didn't think about time allocation. However, after joining the football team, you really need to give up some rest time to train. This requires you to finish things in 10 minutes, and never delay to 11 minutes. I also began to list the daily things from importance to unimportance. I found that the efficiency increased rapidly, which also ensured my sleep, so that learning and training could be carried out effectively. Now, there is a virtuous circle. Finally, most importantly, I have harvested a group of lovely friends who have quite rich and warm souls. Some people sing very well, some play flute quite professionally, some like dancing. However, everyone stays on this team because of the same hobby, toward the same goal, and through the best part of the road together. This is a very romantic thing. On weekdays, we often go to play together such as swimming, singing, running etc. At the same time, we are also concerned about each other. Although there are graduating students leaving the campus, we still care about each other's life, and still say a "happy birthday" on their birthday.

EDITOR

When it comes to the most impressive thing, it must be the first formal football game in my life. It's a school level game. We have been training together for a month. Therefore, we have a strong team spirit and attach great importance to this game. The seniors took us to warm up early with all kinds of interesting postures, so we relaxed and played football breezily. The whole team worked very hard on the field. The goalkeeper Jia Duoduo saved one ball after another. The guard were on guard. As soon as the forward got the ball, they rushed forward immediately. The men's football players and teachers cheered for us off the field. There were also students from the propaganda department who had been following the shooting team. Everyone was giving their own strength for the game. I played right back in the team. In the whole process, I have been in direct conflict with the cornerman. I also threw away the usual delicate personality. When I was knocked down, I still continued to climb up to save the ball. At the moment of winning, we all hugged each other with tears. It was the result of so many days of hard work. I remember that day had a men's and women's football match at the same time. We got a good win-win result for both men and women's football. Later, the group photo was hung on the wall of the teaching building. From the day I joined the football team, I always felt that it was the right decision. Always remember that warm and passionate time.

Which football star do you like? Why?

EDITOR

My favorites football star is Cristiano Ronaldo, and I have worshiped him for many years. Because he is a really perfect football player, he devoted his whole life into football. He has been strict with himself. He spends most of his time staying in gyms to practice himself. He is also a good leader, when his team facing some trouble in the match, he can always stand up for his team and make fantastic reversals, and he is the soul of the team. Besides, his actions and thoughts influence a lot of people. Many people think him as an idol and sincerely follow him. Obviously, I am the one of them.

What do you think are the advantages of playing football?

EDITOR

There are many advantages of playing football. First of all, like all the other sports, playing football can help us keep health. We run, jump and pass the ball, all these things can help us losing calories and make us keep health. Second, playing football can let us achieve true friendship. We trust each other and rely on each other. We fight for a same goal and never complain about each other. We take all the pain together, and also share all the happiness. I think I got a lot of true friends when I play football, and they are the treasure of my life.

Can you share one of the most impressive moments or events after you joined the football team?

EDITOR

The most impressive thing for me should be the last eight matches last year. We played very hard in that game. We leveled the score twice after two times behind. In the end we won the game on penalties and everyone was very excited.

What do you think are the advantages of playing football?

EDITOR

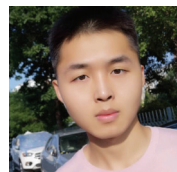

Playing football can exercise your body. In addition, communication with your teammates and opponents can also improve your communication skills. In football you can't always score goals, but you can run all the time, which can exercise your willpower.

I've became more confident after competition, though we didn't get a good score, we learned how to work together and how to cooperate, it was a real memorable event.

What do you think are the advantages of playing volleyball?

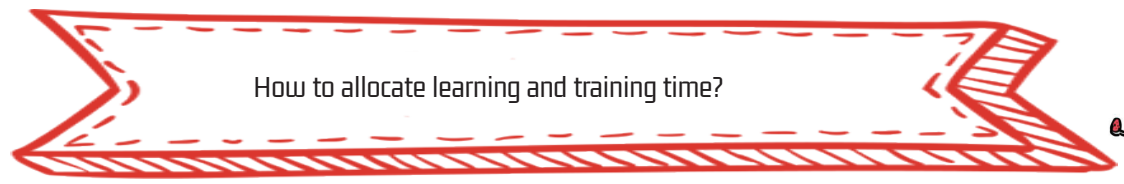

EDITOR

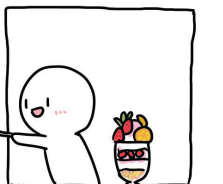

WANG XINYANG
STANLEY

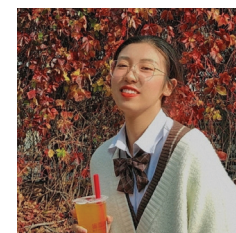

It makes me learn to cooperate, more harmonious with the people around me.

How to allocate learning and training time?

EDITOR

SUN QIANQI
PERI

I do not wthink it's difficult to allocate learning and training time, although we are always busy with studies. As long as we want training, we are willing to squeeze in time. Assignments and lessons are not endless, and we can practice in our spare time, such as weekends. The most important thing is we don't think training is tiring, and we just think of it as a way to relax.

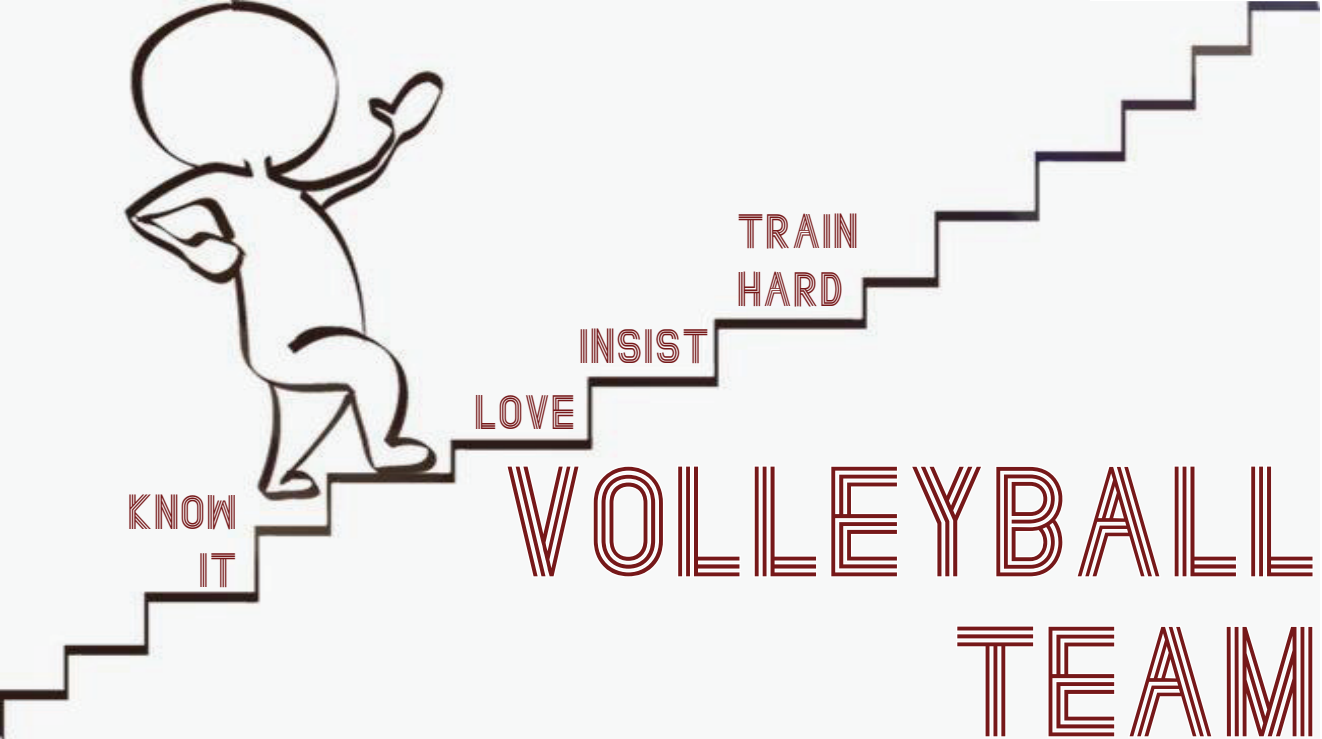

EDITOR

SUN QIANQI
PERI

There is no doubt that volleyball is a pleasant sport. Its benefits go far beyond exercise. Volleyball is a very cooperative sport, so it tests the ability of team cooperation. What's more in order to win in a volleyball match, in addition to our own skills, but also to have a tactful strategy. So, in the process of playing volleyball, we have fully exercised our brains and cultivated the spirit of teamwork.

Why do you join the basketball team?

EDITOR

I always agree with the saying that interest is the best teacher. I have a strong interest in basketball, and usually watch some basketball games, including CBA. The basketball team lets me make friends with a group of like-minded people. I enjoy the atmosphere that a group of people who have the same interest strive for the same goal.

Can you share one of the most impressive moments or events after you joined the basketball team?

EDITOR

It is impressed for me that the former students of the basketball team use their free time to see us train and provide some useful experience in the game. In particular, the students who have graduated also practice with us on weekends. I am deeply moved by the deep friendship between the teammates.

WANGHUIZI
CATHERINE

Which basketball star do you like?

EDITOR

I'd like to choose Yao Ming, because he successfully obtained the respect from his teammates and the whole NBA league years ago as a Chinese. Undoubtedly, Yao had a really hard time after he officially started his life in NBA when he was young. At the beginning, he was not really accepted by others, he was not powerful enough to control the game, it was not even easy for him to get some help. However, he overcame all the difficulties and wrote the legend of his own with his own hands. I do believe he has become the reason why more and more brave young Chinese men are willing to get involved in NBA. He will always be remembered by NBA as a giant from China.

How to allocate learning and training time?

EDITOR

To arrange my time properly, no doubt, I have to make the things I do everyday as useful and efficient as possible. Consequently, I seldom play video games while I was staying at the campus. I would spend most of my time on studying or training instead. Normally speaking, I spend more time on training in the daytime, and when it is getting late, I will start reviewing and doing my homework and so on until the midnight. If you can have a try to find a proper timetable for yourself, I believe you will realize the time you can actually use is way beyond your expectation.

Which basketball star do you like?

EDITOR

The basketball star I like most is called Kobe Bryant. He is a cold blood killer on the court and unstoppable. The reason why I like him is the spirit he can give us. When i am down, i would think of what he had talked to us. He told us that we should never give it up by what he had done.

Have you changed since you joined the basketball team?

EDITOR

I have changed a lot after joining the basketball team. My teammates taught me how to work together. I turned into trust my guys more and more. I learned about what the team is. I became much healthier than before. Not only I improve my body, but I also change my mind. The most meaningful thing for me is never give up until the last minute.

TALK TO YOU

What kind of experience do you have of taking classes at LNU-MSU (taught in English)?

I think the general state of Chinese universities is "you say I listen". The most distinctive feature of international business school is its strong interaction. It is a natural process to turn passive learning into active learning and use English as the carrier. It's not only in class but also after class. Instead of telling students the answers directly, professors encourage students to explore step by step. In short, in class, I'm an active participant. After class, I am an encouraged explorer.

Echo
(Chang Zhongyuan)

In the beginning, I struggled with adapting to the English teaching. I faced some problems like being afraid of presentations and not understanding the professors. After gradually adapting to the English environment, I am starting to see the benefits. I can exercise my ability to listen, speak, read, and write and notice the important role it plays in improving my overall quality.

Becky
(Bai Jie)

When you first entered college, how did you adapt to the pressure caused by intensive exams?

Frequent exams are a major feature of our college. It was difficult to get used to, in the beginning. Exams are all in English, which puts a lot of pressure on me. I am converting this pressure into motivation. I am listening in class, communicating with the professor when I do not understand and asking for exam details such as, form and scope. Then when I review it carefully, I am not as flustered before the exam.

Nancy
(Sun Kexin)

When I first started school, I found that the intensive exams made me crazy. The whole English course made me unable to adapt. But gradually, I found a way to adapt to this intensive exam. During the class, I closely followed the professor's thinking. I don't understand the problems to be solved in time, so that I will not accumulate knowledge and problems before the exam and review it. This will reduce a lot of the burden, and can also relieve the pressure caused by the intensive examination to a certain extent. Of course, this also requires a process of adaptation. In this process, we must maintain firm confidence, so that we will adapt to the brand-new everything in the shortest time.

Which professor or course do you like best in LNU-MSU, and why?

Miss Scoggin is my favorite teacher in LNU-MSU. She is so beautiful. I was very lucky to be her student this semester, but we couldn't meet in school because of the epidemic. That is a pity! Through contact with her, I learned that she is a very kind teacher with a high academic level. Miss Scoggin is strict in teaching and very patient. She is very enthusiastic. Always sincere to help us solve the problem.

Jessica
(Ru Jingwen)

My favorite class is Mr. Hammar's computer course, which we call CIS. Our grade is graded by the percentage of the exam, and I remember when I first came to International Business School, I didn't know the importance of each exam. I failed the first computer test and got only half of the grade, which meant that I had to get around 85 percent on every subsequent test to get the grade I wanted. I remember before taking the Final exam, Hammar encouraged me and thought I would be able to do it. I got 95 percent in the last exam, which brought me to grade A in this course. I think Mr. Hammar is very willing to encourage and motivate students, which makes me willing to learn CIS and study happily.

ONLINE CLASSES IN SPRING 2020

ONLINE CLASSES IN SPRING 2020

Editor

What are the differences between an online class and the face-to-face one? Which one do you prefer?

Online class is easier to access because it can be given at any time and place. And most online classes are videos were taken before, which can be played again and again if there's something you don't understand. However, I still prefer the traditional class. I think the face to face one is more convenient for us to discuss with each other. We can also ask our teachers for help and they can help us solve problems in time. But it is not that easy to contact with other classmates, neither can we consult to our teachers in real-time in the online classes.

Vanessa
(Yang Wanyi)

Online lessons and offline face-to-face teaching give me two completely different feelings. They have their advantages and disadvantages. The advantage of online lessons is that the videos can be played back, so we can repeat saying what we did not understand. However, the disadvantage is that we do not have close contact with our teachers. It is difficult to get a timely answer because of the time difference if we have any questions. Face-to-face offline teaching is the opposite of online lessons.

There are three other serious problems with online courses. First, not having regular class time probably leads to procrastination. Second, the exams are difficult to be proctored, which may lead to plagiarism; Third, online exams may encounter some irresistible factors (such as network problems), which will lead to unsatisfactory results and it is unfair. I prefer face-to-face teaching because I think this mode can help me have a more thorough understanding, and it's also a fairer way of teaching for all students.

ONLINE CLASSES IN SPRING 2020

ONLINE CLASSES IN SPRING 2020

There are many differences between teaching online classes and studying in school. I think I can arrange my time more flexibly by taking online classes and studying online requires a high degree of self-control. However, I have great motivation to take classes in university because of professors' supervision and invisible pressure from peers. Compared to online classes, I prefer to take classes in school. Because I have more interaction with, professors. What's more, I can study with my classmates and we can solve problems together.

I prefer to take classes at school. Online teaching cannot communicate face-to-face with the teacher and can not see the teacher's expression and body language, which is not conducive to our learning. Students studying in the school can communicate more with teachers and classmates, and the convergence of different ideas can better understand the content of the courses. Especially when teaching in foreign languages, teachers' body language can help students better understand and remember. The effect of online speech is not very good. All in all, it is more efficient and happier to attend classes at school.

After becoming a student of LNU-MSU, how did you make your first friend?

My first friend in LNU-MSU is Alice, Huang Binhai. She is also my best friend at school. Alice is a very interesting and cute girl. Our way of knowing is special and fun. In the first athletic meeting, we were both the athletes of the same event. I thought she was very good at sports from her appearance. Then I greeted her on my initiative and asked if she would like to instruct me in sports. She agreed to my request enthusiastically and we added WeChat to each other. Our friendship continues.

My first friend in LNU-MSU was an American student from Missouri State University. We first met in the Academic Center and she helped me correct my first article there. This meeting made us leave an unforgettable college time for each other, and she also made me learn plenty of things, which helped me correct my pronunciation, taught me the MLA format of American writing, played my audience and give advice to my speech and so on. The things what she did for me make me more confident in my future life. Even though we are half a world away now, but I believed as the word before she left Dalian goes, "I am always here for you".

ONCE BEARS

ALWAYS BEARS

GO BEARS!

OUR STORY IS TO BE CONTINUED

CHASE NOISE BITE

In the room we lie together,
Doing our dirty deeds,
waiting for the butterfly,
a monarch larger than any of us could be.

Together, we are ashamed and when it comes, together, we take bite after bite of its beautiful wings.
I could eat an entire wing myself

We stop when we see its body.
We stop when we see
what we have done.
We are no longer hungry,
and we wonder whether it is too late

The monarch surprises us by offering its body.
You must eat, it says. Eat more, it says.
Some people declined, having formed convincing theories,
but the best among us ate quietly our share and prayed to be forgiven of the hunger.

We wish you well on your next adventure in Shanghai.

We look the butterfly in its eyes,
and we mourn for ourselves.
We mourn for our violence, and we realize we have lost our ability to cry.
